

Cochrane Street United Church

Sanctuary Elements

There are several elements of the Cochrane Street United Church sanctuary that contribute directly to the spirituality of the space for the congregation. Although individual in nature they all work together to establish the sanctuary's spirituality and atmosphere and need to be considered in this overall context.

- The organ, choir loft, pulpit and communion rail
- The ceiling chandelier cross light
- The stained-glass windows on the north, east and south walls
- 3 memorial tablets commemorating members who died in World War 1, World War 2 and the Korean War.
- A Sunday school Superintendent Memorial tablet.

Should the sale go forward, the above noted elements should remain owned by the congregation of Cochrane Street United Church.

There is also the need to address the Cochrane Centre commitment of securing space for the congregation's archives.
